COUNTY COMMITTEE HOLDS SESSION AT WASHINGTON

Plans for Republican Campaign for County Discussed.

QUESTION OF LEGALITY

Said by Some That Chairman Andersen Called Too Many

The executive committee of the Republican party of Washington county was called together yesterday by the secretary of the county committee and held its meeting at the Hotel Siegel. Plans for the conduct of the campaign were discussed and the work in a general way outlined for the fall's work. All but a few of the committeemen were present in addition to many of the candidates and some of the party workers. Altogether about 35 were present at the informal meeting at the hotel and later took dinner.

The meeting was presided over by A. H. Anderson, county chairman. A short address was made by John K. Tener of Charleroi, the Republican candidate for congress. His keynote was Republican loyalty. He spoke of the strong ticket named by the Republicans at Chicago—a ticket which could command the support of every Republican. He also spoke of the local candidates and the entire ticket as worthy of united support.

J. H. Vichenstein, of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company also spoke a few words along similar lines. In conclusion the committee endorsed the national Republican nominees, Taft and Sherman, and adopted a resolution asking for legislation to limit the power of injunctions in our state courts.

In the resolution the committee stated its regrets that Pennsylvania's favorite son, P. C. Knox, had not been nominated for the presidency, but pledged their cordial support to the nominees. They recognized in Mr. Taft a real leader, one worthy of the position of President of the United States. Sympathy was extended to the Republican nominees for vice president, James S. Sherman, in his affliction and hopes were expressed for his speedy recovery.

Considerable surprise was expressed at the action of Chairman Anderson in appointing 25 members of the executive committee. Rule 4 of the Republican party of Washington county provides that the executive committee is to consist of 15 persons. It is elected by the county committee, or if the county committee does not exercise that power it is to be appointed by the chairman. The county committee at its recent meeting authorized Chairman Anderson to appoint the executive committee.

It was supposed, of course, that he would adhere to the rule and appoint a committee of 15. But in order to take care of more people who wanted recognition 25 were appointed. Of course if the chairman had the authority to appoint 25 he could appoint 125 if he chose. An act of assembly and many decisions of the Pennsylvania course make the party rule abiding as a law enacted by the legislature. The Washington county rules put certain duties upon the executive committee.

There are two Charleroi men on the executive committee, Charles F. Thompson, and E. C. Niver.

WELL KNOWN COUPLE MARRIED AT BRIDE'S HOME

At six o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's mother, on Fifth street, the wedding of Miss Eva Winona, daughter of Mrs. Louisa Carson, to Mr. Charles Sheridan Van Voorhis, of Scenery Hill, took place, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. C. Boblitt of the First Christian church. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. The wedding guests consisted merely of members of the immediate families.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white lingerie trimmed with lace embroidery, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was rendered by Miss Edna McMasters. Immediately after the ceremony a luncheon was served, the color scheme of green and white being carried out in the cakes and ices. The couple left on the 7:50 train for Macinac Island, to spend about a month in that region.

The bride is one of Charleroi's best known young ladies. She is prominent both in church and society. She is a sister of Mrs. S. Walton Sharpnack of Washington avenue. Her husband is a well known man, coming from a good family. He recently returned from New Mexico where he spent several years.

BANQUET OF CLASSMEN A HUGE SUCCESS

The banquet held last evening at the Menier Hotel by the past and present classmen of Douglas College was a successful social affair, one which brought the students in closer touch with each other and established many friendships. There were covered laid for thirty-five persons. Guests were present from all along the river, graduate of the college as far back as 1904 attending. After the banquet, the guests adjourned to the hotel parlors where a pleasant evening was spent in having a social good time. The affair was in charge of a committee from the college consisting of James Small, J. T. Dorsey, Marie Connelly, Agnes Hazlett, Annabella Greenwalt and Robert McGowan.

LOCK 4 BEATS OUT THE WIRETON JUNIORS

An interesting game of baseball was pulled off between the Wireton Juniors last evening and Lock Four, the latter team winning by a score of 11 to 3. The principal features of the game was two home runs made by W. Cratty and Allshouse. On account of the rain Umpire Anderson called the game in the seventh inning.

COMMISSIONERS BUSY THESE DAYS

Road Improvements, Bridge Constructions and Repair Work Keep Them on Go

County Commissioners Wiley, Myers and Huffman are kept busy these days, owing to the great amount of road improvements, bridge construction and repair work, both on roads and bridges, going on in various parts of the county. Their attention is being called almost daily to work needed on bridges, and as quickly as possible after receiving word they investigate the case. It sometimes occurs that the dangerous conditions existing require prompt action, although they are not often obliged to close up a bridge until repairs may be arranged for.

At present road improvements is going on at the following places: Continuation of two miles on the county road leading toward West Middletown; the Taylorstown road from the station to the town, a distance of one mile; a mile stretch leading from the borough of Burgettstown south toward Cross Creek village. Resurfacing work is going on on the Claysville Burnsville road, three miles in length, and the Zollarsville road.

A new bridge at Burgettstown is nearing completion; the mason work at the Hill's station bridge is nearing completion; work is commenced at the new bridge near Thompsonville, and bridges are to be constructed at Good Intent, Middletown station on the Wabash railroad, and on Mingo creek. William Wylie, engineer for the commissioners, went to West Finley township yesterday, where repairs will have to be made to the bridge near the residence of H. B. Erskin. Other bridges in the county are demanding attention, as soon as possible Engineer Wylie will investigate each case.

Mr. Wylie reports that the work on the joint bridge over the Monongahela river, from Donora to Webster, is progressing rapidly. This span will be 1,550 feet in length, and will extend from the foot of Eighth street in Donora, to Anderson street, in Webster.

REPETITION OF WATERLOO STORY

Terrific Slaughter on Field of Moguls in Which Osborners are Overcome

The Cherubs, chirping like a spring robin, marched into the territory inhabited by the Drummer boys yesterday and got everything but a score. They did manage to get six men on the cushions but three of them were caught before passing the third station. What Clarksburg done to the Charleroi crew was a sad story. Long John McIlvaine, who has been getting his about as regular as he worked, was sent to the heaving mound by Manager Osborne. John did very good for two rounds but the third was more than he could master and before the swatters from Drummerville got tired they had chased five men over the pan that makes marks on the score board. This wasn't enough for the Long One and he was sent back to get some more. The fourth was somewhat better however as the side was retired without a runner crossing the goal. Thinking he had about mastered the situation John assumed his position in the fifth. There wasn't much to do but throw them over and after three batters had been retired it was seen that only two scores had been shoved over. This record looked pretty good and Scizzors went back in the sixth. After one run had been made Heinz was sent in, all the other pitchers being on a fishing expedition. He was all right during that round but took a chill while three of the Cherubs were getting their healthy swings at the horseshoe, and when he started in the seventh it was worse than a visit to a Chicago packing house. After he had gotten all he cared for, Urbien, who used to pitch quito in the Lamp Light League, went in. The hammering he got was worse than administered to Jimmy Britt by Battling Nelson. Score:

WALKING ALONG TRACK

Body Taken to McKeesport—Mother is Prostrated Over Tragedy.

John Donley, of Charleroi while walking along the tracks near the Sunnyside mines, across the river from Donora, yesterday afternoon was struck and killed by a local shifter, which was putting in some material for the coal company. A companion with Donley saw the approaching shifter in time to escape being hit. He screamed to his friend, but Donley did not hear or thought the other was playing a joke and did not stop in time to prevent being struck.

The two men worked in the Sunnyside mine, and a little after four o'clock yesterday afternoon left to return to their homes. They were walking along the tracks toward the ferry and did not take any notice of the shifter. Donley was struck and thrown a good distance. Death was not instantaneous, and the injured man was picked up and placed on the 4:30 train to be taken to the McKeesport Hospital but on the way there died.

When the tragedy was learned by Donley's mother, Mrs. Mary Donley, of Crest avenue, Charleroi, she was prostrated. She tried to have the whereabouts of her son's body discovered but utterly failed.

Donley was forty-two years of age, and unmarried, living with his mother.

Should Stand Firm

It is evident that the candidacy of Miss Eliza Wilson, of Monongahela, for the nomination as school director, has caused considerable commotion. In the editorial expressions are any criterion to go by.

We hope Miss Wilson will stand by her guns and not be awed into retiring from her excellent position simply because some do not agree with her.
She has too many excellent and historic examples before her showing what a woman can do, from directing the affairs of a great empire to attending to the details of a social function. No intelligent person will deny that the empires of Great Britain, Austria and Russia made their greatest progress under the guiding hands of woman rulers, and even in our day China would have been dismembered but for the resourcefulness of the dowager empress. The idea that a well educated, progressive woman cannot manage the petty details of a school district is absurd, when one recalls that hundreds of great business establishments are directed by women. The crafty, keen financiers of Wall Street have not outwitted Hetty Green to any noticeable extent and in the matter of "frenzied finance," Cassie Chadwick seems to have been well up towards the head of the procession.

Had St. Paul's advice been followed and women kept from attending to the affairs of the churches the latter would be in a position correctly described as deplorable. Any clergyman will tell you that. The notion that a woman must remain at home and take no part in the affairs of the public is a relic of the days of the harem and has neither position nor support in this country.
The people of Tioga county would jibe at the thought that women cannot manage schools after their experience with Miss Lewis.

The Fool Killer Needed.

The boat rocker, the didn't know it was loaded, and the practical joker, are too to be avoided as dangerous as war, pestilence and famine.
Five men are dead, one dangerously wounded, one insane and one locked up on a murder charge, all happening within a month in our neighboring county of Allegheny. Is it not a ghastly record? These three species of idiotcy are always "prostrated" or
"frantic with grief," or have to be
"restrained from committing suicide"
after the victim of their homicidal

"humor" is dead or maimed for life.
The cavities which, in normal people, are occupied by brains, seem to be filled with saw-dust or sorghum in humorous asses. At the first symptom of an out-break on the part of these wags any person is justified in taking an axe and saving the life of the en-tended victim by killing the "joker."
A general jail delivery of Judge Lynch should issue at once and summary vengeance inflicted upon the "humorist".
No blame would ever be attached to people for so doing. On the contrary, they would receive the hearty thanks of all for ridding the world of an unmitigated menace to life and limb.

Both Right and President

Henry Clay once remarked that he
"would rather be right than President."
The late Grover Cleveland had the rare fortune to be both right and President.
It is doubtful if any man in the history of our country, not excepting Lincoln, was as viciously and bitterly abused as Grover Cleveland. The Republicans accused him for political reasons; the spoils-men of both parties denounced for personal reasons and the Democrats repudiated him as a traitor who had destroyed his party. All three might disagree on everything else but they were unanimous in declaring Grover Cleveland to be the "sum of all vil-litudes." Yet Cleveland was eternally right.

For partisan reasons only men in the most exalted position did not scruple to rebash the most indecent gossip about him. He was held up to public scorn as a moral monster, a confirmed drunkard, a glutton, a traitor to his country, a man devoid of conscience. To him more than other man is the credit due for our financial salvation but his part therein made him be beset with obloquy as great as ever beset mortal man.

His was a heroic figure in stormy periods of public life and he will be numbered among the Captains Commons in the Nation's annals.

Learn to Obey.

Learn to obey! By obedience I do not mean a merely outward submission to outward force and authority, but the voluntary subordination of one's own will under the will of a better and higher intelligence. He who has not learned to do this in childhood will have great difficulty in learning it in later life; he will rarely get beyond the deplorable and unhappy state that villifies between outward submission and uproarious rebellion. No greater wrong can be done to childhood than the one caused by our desire to spare it the necessity of obeying. Whoever conceives the duty of the educator to consist in giving in to all desires of the child, in gratifying all its wishes, makes himself guilty of the gravest sin toward his child. He denies it what, in view of its future mission, it cannot afford to lose—namely, the exercise in voluntarily subordinating its own will under necessity, be it a natural or a social one.—Professor F.
Paulson, University of Berlin, in Educational Review.

Strange Feats of Eye and Hand.

An expert who prided himself upon the swiftness of his writing sent the president of the French academy a grain of wheat on which he had written 221 words. A Polish poet wrote all of Homer's "Iliad" on a piece of paper which could be rolled up small enough to go into a nutshell.

In the sixteenth century a man named Mark offered to Queen Elizabeth a gold chain of fifty links. The chain was so fine it could not be seen unless it was put on a sheet of white paper. To prove its lightness Mark tied it to a fly, which flew away with it. The most curious feat in this matter, which required so extraordinary a facility of touch for making this ornament, was that Mark was a blacksmith, accustomed to all kinds of heavy tools all day long.

A Spaniard, Joseph Faba, made a carriage as large as a grain of wheat.
Under a magnifying glass it was possible to see the interior fitted up with seats, every detail being carried out to perfection.

Sure of Water.

Sir Joseph Prestwich had bought in 1994 a small estate near Sevenoaks, on which he built a residence, but it was high up on a dry and treeless chalk down. Where was water to be found?

So confident was Prestwich in respect of water supply that he at once engaged an old well digger to sink a well 168 feet deep. The boring proceeded, but when a depth of 166 feet was reached the two workmen went to the city and sought an interview with their employer, whom they found at his desk. They explained that there was no sign of water and that in their opinion it was useless to bore to a greater depth. "Go on," was the quiet rejoinder. "You will come upon water tomorrow. You are within two feet of it." Next day it proved exactly as Prestwich had foretold, and ever afterward, among many of the denizens of the valley, he had the reputation, much to his amusement, of not being quite
"canny."—Life and Letters of Sir Joseph Prestwich.

Put Out of Commission.

Abernethy was supposed to influence people by a brusqueness amounting to absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very valuable lady took her daughter, who was ill, to see him.

"Which of you two wants to consult me?" said Abernethy.

"My daughter," replied the elder woman.

Abernethy then put a question to the girl. Before she had a chance to reply her mother began a long story. Abernethy told her to be quiet and repeated his question to the girl. A second time the woman began a story, and a second time he told her to be quiet.
Then she interrupted him a third time.
"Put your tongue out," he said to the mother.

"But there's nothing the matter with me," she exclaimed.

"Never mind, put your tongue out,"
he commanded.

Thoroughly overawed, the woman obeyed.

"Now, keep it out," said Abernethy, and he proceeded to examine the girl.—

A Quiser Complication.

In Sydney, a town of 500,000 inhabitants, one can get nothing to eat on a Sunday. Certain restaurants supply food surreptitiously, but the whole time the guests are in danger of being arrested. Once an Italian was in such a restaurant on Sunday when suddenly the police entered. The Italian was promptly pushed by the proprietor into a room where a waitress happened to be standing in negligee. Even then the police invaded, but the waitress saved the situation by declaring that the young man was her fiancé.
The young man, by the way, had been married some time. He thought that he had deceived the policeman; but as a matter of fact, he had got out of the trapping pan into the fire. One fine day the waitress called him before the courts and claimed $2,500 for breach of promise. The Italian had to pay. And then came the worst of all. His wife sued for a divorce and shortly after married another man.

dred words is an excellent test in the pronunciation of "T" at first, and then over it again, every word, in company with a good dictionary.
"The patient, who was in the hospital, soon became accustomed and had ample leisure to contemplate all the economic details of her inextricable sword.
The wound revealed the allopathic mi-croscopist, who gave a courteous diagnosis and humbly craved precedence for a tiny drop in the form of a vase with an aesthetic accounting apparatus. This told the news like a book, but it might have been a book in itself, for when he wrote down his address. She ate her breakfast and then fraternized with a national expert in appendicitis, who attended the obsequies."

The Gun Barrels Grow.

In the early days in the northwest, when the Hudson Bay company laid the foundations of great fortunes by trade with the savages and a gun paid for as many beaver skins as would reach to the muzzle of it, the skins packed flat and the gun held upright, it was alleged that the barrel of the weapon grew and grew with each successive year until the Indian, after he had bought it with the peltry, had to borrow a file and cut off a foot of useless metal.

Domestic Bliss.

Wife—I have about made up my mind, John, that when I married you I married a fool. Husband—That reminds me of a remark you made just before we were married. You remember that you said it would be hard to find two people more alike than you and I.

His Glassy Eye.

Doctor—I diagnose all sickness from the patient's eyes. Now, your right eye tells me that your kidneys are affected. Patient—Excuse me, doctor, but my right is a glass eye.—Moody's Magazine.

Simple.

Lawyer (at the theater on the first night)—I can't imagine how the piece can be drawn out into five acts. Author —Oh, that is very simple. In the first act, you see, the hero gets into a lawsuit.

Chance For Imagination.

Newspaper men were to be excluded from a famous trial. "That's good," one of them remarked. "I hate to be hampered by facts in writing up a case of this kind."—Exchange.

Among the Exchanges

Under the above suggestive caption a McKeesport business man contributes the following explanation of the financial problem to business men and offers a remedy for it.

"Loosen up!" In these two words, lies the solution of the whole financial problem that has been enconfounding the business men of this county for the past six months. There is no good reason for present conditions, plenty of money everywhere, crops are good and mother earth has never yielded up her treasures more bountifully than during the past year, so what's the trouble and who is to blame? You and I, my friends—nobody else, and conditions won't change until you and I remove the cause then conditions will disappear.

"Our wealth comes from the ground and the production and distribution of wealth involves all the workmen in the world. The wheels of business are kept running by the product of farm and time, and the produce depends on the consumer for the market for his produce, so that different branches of business are like the spokes of a wheel, each one equally as important as the other and playing as important a part. The wheel has lowered down a bit and everybody is losing in his proportion. Why? Simply this—you and I were frightened at a cloud that rose over Manhattan Island last fall and which has now entirely disappeared.

"Isn't it time our knees quit knocking for the cyclone that never came? Isn't it time we quit being tight wads and helped to move the wheel a little faster? We ought to be ashamed of ourselves—great big overgrown lobsers that we are—kicking because—well three isn't a host of a reason for it, and I for one, am going right out to get something for my case of nozeritis, then I'm going to loosen up—thaw out—and hit the first man that talks hard times to me.
What are you going to do? Loosen up!"

The advise is not half bad and it will cost nothing to give it a trial.

The Park and Playground Association meets this evening for organization. The meeting should be attended by all citizens who can go. Connellsville is behind the times in this respect. Pittsburgh's playground organizations have asked the authorities of that city for $2,000,000 for the furtherance of their work, and the Pittsburgh Dispatch endorses the application in the following language:

Large bond issues are being urged for various public improvements, some of them naturally incident to the consolidation water to every part of the greater city is a necessity; free passage across the Allegheny river has been secured. These objects should be placed at a small expenditure as is consistent with proper fulfillment of the promises. Among other projects the playgrounds extension appears to be one of the most deserving. It is an ultimate economy and benefit to the whole community, worthy of being provided for in part at the expense of the coming generation, which is to profit largely from the foundation. Some of the other projects can better wait for maturer judgment and the accumulation of new credit. Playgrounds are entitled earnest consideration.

Playgrounds are just as important to Connellsville in proportion to its population as they are to Pittsburgh.
It is not proposed here to ask for any present assistance from the borough authorities, but at modest cost to fix up a natural location by individual contribution.

We will hope this will be the beginning of bigger and better things.
—Connellsville Courier.

One of the Tribune's acquaintances asked it the other day what the republican party means by permitting a black man to preside at a national convention and when it is going to drop the "nigger." We are not authorized to speak for the republican party and do not assume to do anything of the sort. And yet some obvious truths are easily seen. The negro is a citizen. He is entitled to vote, to attend political conventions of this party, state and national, to participate in the proceedings of those conventions, to preside over their deliberations, either temporarily or permanently, to run for office and to fill the same if his constituents see fit. to elect him. When it comes to a question of social equality there is no reason to suppose that it will ever come about, but political equality is a different matter. It is here to stay.—Altoona Tribune.

Commenting on the benefit of railroads to the community that is brought in touch with them, the Franklin Repository of Chambersburg, truthfully says: A great many people regard railroads, steam or electric, as big corporations organized largely to do the people and reap as large a personal reward as possible.
A community like Fulton county,

without a railroad of any character, can fully appreciate what it is to be without such conveniences, and it would be very glad to be done a little if it could but procure a line. The amount of money distributed by wages in a community is enormous. Had it not been for the construction of the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro trolley, and improvements on the Cumberland and Valley railroad that have been made and are still being made, many of our men, who were forced to give up other positions, would have been without employment during the entire spring. Railroads are of infinite benefit to any community and are entitled to more recognition than they generally receive."

Quinlin got fired because he pitched at 500. He worked too hard.

Charlottesville might have loaned us a run, just for a day or two.

Talk about your sensations.
Drum scored twice in one inning.

We were shoved to the bottom of the kalsomine tank and it was a deep one.

It wasn't the landaig in third place that hurt but it was the way they shoved us.

It certainly was some colossal, preposterous, spectacular exhibition of the national game.

It's too bad the Y. M. C. A. is busted. They might have loaned us some good players.

E. Z. Belle Vernon. Your question is: "How many games does a pitcher have to lose before it is demonstrated that he can't deliver the goods." Answer: It depends entirely on how much of a pull he has with the fans.

SIGN OF A BEATEN MAN.

Runner Who Looks Behind Almost
Sure to Lose the Race.

"There are many more good distance runners now than in my days," said an old time champion after watching a three mile scratch race at the New York Athletic club games. "But the habits of the runners have not changed any, for I noticed one little trick in the race that bore the significance that used to attach to it.

"To the casual onlooker there was nothing to choose between the two leaders when they were beginning the last quarter of a mile. Right from the crack of the pistol they were running almost stride for stride with the low, graceful, easy action of the real long distance runner.

"Neither had called into use the reserve power which must be utilized in the final sprint for victory when they turned into the stretch for the final lap. Then one of them slightly turned his head to see where the third man was.

"That man is beaten," was the thought which occurred to me at once, and it proved true, as always, for when the dash for the finish began he allowed his rival to get a head of five yards before going after him in earnest pursuit.

"From that point to the finish there was no perceptible difference in the speed of the men, but the man who had turned his head to make sure that he would get second place, instead of bending every energy to win, of course landed where his thoughts placed him."—New York Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Murlock and Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have left for Atlantic City to spend several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Chalfant leave this evening for Streator, Ill., where they will visit Mrs. Edith Keever, formerly of Charleroi.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reeves left this morning for Carmichael to visit their daughter, Mrs. William Vance. They will likely go from there to Mt. Chateau to spend sometime.

Miss Mae Hepler left this morning for Erie where she will spend the summer with her grandmother. She was accompanied to Pittsburg by her father, Joseph Hepler.

Kodol is the best known preparation that is offered to the people today for dyspepsia or indigestion or any stomach trouble. Kodol digests all foods. It is pleasant to take. It is sold here by Piper Bros.

Steps are being taken in Mahanoy City to restrict the explosive features usually connected with the celebration of Independence Day. The Mahanoy City Daily Record, referring in a commendatory manner to this movement, says: "The Retail Merchant's Protective Association, of Mt. Carmel, has resolved that a committee of three be appointed to see the chief business in regard to enforcing the law now in existence prohibiting the firing of fireworks in the borough at any other time except from 6 on the evening of July 3, until July 4 at midnight. This was a step in the right direction, as hosts of urchins are in the habit of exploding fireworks on the principal thoroughfares, regardless of the accidents that may occur through frightening horses, collagations, etc."

LEARNING TO SWIM.

The Fat Man Who Was a Model of Patience and Perseverance.

Persistence in undertaking is a laudable virtue, but it can be a bit overdone sometimes, as in a case described by Y. L. Molloy in "Our Autumn Holiday on French Rivers." Mr. Molloy and his friends, longing for a good dive, went to a swimming school on an island in the Seine. They donned their rented costumes and were preparing for the plunge when a man with ropes came along and insisted on tying them about their waists. It was according to police regulations, and although they made an indignant protest, they were obliged to submit.

While we were dressing, says Mr. Molloy, we asked the two swimming masters for an extra towel.

"Pardon," they replied, "we must attend to our moustache."

Then we saw that there had come upon the platform a short and absurdly fat man dressed in bathing costume, swimming trunks and oiled cap.

The swimming masters received the new arrival at the middle of the platform. There he balanced himself on his stomach on a wooden stump two feet high. The masters seized him by his hands and feet and with slow and deliberate movements made him strike out with the action of swimming. They kept this up for a quarter of an hour, and the perspiration rolled off him in great drops.

"He'll be awfully hot to go into the water after that," said I.

But he did not go into the water. The swimming lesson over, he moved toward the dressing room, saying: "I have done better today."

"Ah, yes," answered one of the masters. "Your progress is admirable."

The fat man beamed with complacency and went in to dress.

I called the swimming masters aside. "Does 'our moustache' practice often like that? He must have great perseverance."

"Perseverance! He has worked like this for five years, and he has never been in the water!"

Not What He Meant.

Physician—Have you any aches or pains this morning? Patient—Yes, doctor; it hurts me to breathe—in fact, the only trouble now seems to be with my breath. Physician—All right. I'll give you something that will soon stop that!

Forbearance.

Bacon—Did you ever have any desire to go on the stage? Egbert—Oh, yes; only last week I did. Oh, the actor was vile! But I contented myself with playing an egg at him.—You know Statesman.

HERE AND THERE

The welcome hum of industry in increased volume is being heard throughout the hills and valleys of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and that part of West Virginia which forms the remainder of the great Pittsburg district.

Henry Douglas, Uniontown's negro policeman, and Officer Joseph Hager will be tried Thursday evening by the police committee and the Council charged with using profane language.

Peter Smith is locked up at the police station at Connellsville and Mrs. Mary Roland is worrying over her unfortunate condition in life. It is a couple that wants to marry and can't because of the legal complications involved.

The conductor on car No. 1660 of the Pittsburg Railway company was "dove up" on a new adaption of the old fill-dam game yesterday afternoon near Calhoun park, while the car was going from Pittsburg to McKeesport.

Washington county's Cupid Class prove that a good girl can always get a husband, if she is onto her job. In spite of the stringent game laws the netting of fish continues in the rivers of Western Pennsylvania. This is probably due to the fact that the laws have until recently been more honored in the breach than in the observance.

The rivers and reservoirs are taking their usual toll of drowned these hot days. COUNTY COMMITTEE HOLDS SESSION AT WASHINGTON

Plans for Republican Campaign for County Discussed.

Said by Some That Chairman Anderson Called Too Many

The executive committee of the Republican party of Washington county was called together yesterday by the secretary of the county committee and held its meeting at the Hotel Siegel. Plans for the conduct of the campaign were discussed and the work in a general way outlined for the fall's work. All but a few of the committeemen were present in addition to many of the candidates and some of the party workers. Altogether about 35 were present at the informal meeting at the hotel and later took dinner.

The meeting was presided over by A. H. Anderson, county chairman. A short address was made by John K. Tener of Charleroi, the Republican candidate for congress. His keynote was Republican loyalty. He spoke of the strong ticket named by the Republicans at Chicago—a ticket which could command the support of every Republican. He also spoke of the local candidates and the entire ticket as worthy of united support.

J. H. Vichenstein, of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company also spoke a few words along similar lines. In resolving the committee endorsed the national Republican nominees, Taft and Sherman, and adopted a resolution asking for legislation to limit the power of injunctions in our state courts.

In the resolution the committee stated its regrets that Pennsylvania's favorite son, P. C. Knox, had not been nominated for the presidency, but pledged their cordial support to the nominees. They recognized in Mr. Taft a real leader, one worthy of the position of President of the United States. Sympathy was extended to the Republican nominee for vice president, James S. Sherman in his affliction and hopes were expressed for his speedy recovery.

Considerable surprise was expressed at the action of Chairman Anderson in appointing 25 members of the executive committee. Rule 4 of the Republican party of Washington county provides that the executive committee is to consist of 15 persons. It is elected by the county committee, or if the county committee does not exercise that power it is to be appointed by the chairman. The county committee at its recent meeting authorized Chairman Anderson to appoint the executive committee.

It was supposed, of course, that he would adhere to the rule and appoint a committee of 15. But in order to take care of more people who wanted recognition 25 were appointed. Of course if the chairman had the authority to appoint 25 he could appoint 125 if he chose. An act of assembly and many decisions of the Pennsylvania courts make the party rule abiding as a law enacted by the legislature. The Washington county rules put certain duties upon the executive committee.

There are two Charleroi men on the executive committee, Charles F. Thompson, and E. C. Neyer.

At six o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's mother, on Fifth street, the wedding of Miss Eva Winona, daughter of Mrs. Louisa Carson, to Mr. Charles Sheridan Van Voorhis, of Scenery Hill, took place, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. C. Boblitt of the First Christian church. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. The wedding guests consisted merely of members of the immediate families.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white lingerie trimmed with lace embroidery, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was rendered by Miss Edna McMasters. Immediately after the ceremony a luncheon was served, the color scheme of green and white being carried out in the cakes and ices. The couple left on the 7:30 train for Macinac Island, to spend about a month in that region.

The bride is one of Charleroi's best known young ladies. She is prominent both in church and society. She is a sister of Mrs. S. Walton Sharp, a well known resident of Washington avenue. Her husband is a well known man, coming from a good family. He recently returned from New Mexico where he spent several years.

County Commissioners Wiley, Myers and Huffman are kept busy these days, owing to the great amount of road improvements, bridge construction and repair work, both on roads of the county. Their attention is being called almost daily to work needed on bridges, and as quickly as possible after receiving word they investigate the case. It sometimes occurs that the dangerous conditions existing require prompt action, although they are not often obliged to close up a bridge until repairs may be arranged for.

At present road improvements is going on at the following places: Continuation of two miles on the county road leading toward West Middletown; the Taylorstown road from the station to the town, a distance of one mile; a mile stretch leading from the borough of Burgettstown south toward Cross Creek village. Resurfacing work is going on on the Clayville Burnsville road, three miles in length, and the Zollarsville road.

A new bridge at Burgettstown is nearing completion; the mason work at the Hill's station bridge is nearing completion; work is commenced at the new bridge near Thompsonville, and bridges are to be constructed at Good Intent, Middletown station on the Wabash railroad, and on Mingo creek. William Wylie, engineer for the commissioners, went to West Finley township yesterday, where repairs will have to be made to the bridge near the residence of H. B. Erskin. Other bridges in the county are demanding attention, as soon as possible Engineer Wylie will investigate each case.

Mr. Wylie reports that the work on the joint bridge over the Monongahela river, from Donora to Webster, is progressing rapidly. This span will be 1,550 feet in length, and will extend from the foot of Eighth street in Donora, to Anderson street, in Webster.

The Cereus, chirping like a spring robin, marched into the territory inhabited by the Drummer boys yesterday and got everything but a score. They did manage to get six men on caught before passing the third station. What Clarksburg done to the Charleroi crew was a sad story. Long John Melvaine, who has been getting his about as regular as he worked, was sent to the heaving mound by Manager Osborne. John did very good for two rounds but the third was more than he could master and before the swatters from Drummerville got tired they had chased five men over the pan that makes marks on the score board. This wasn't enough for the Long One and he was sent back to get some more.

The fourth was somewhat better, however as the side was retired without a runner crossing the goal. Thinking he had about mastered the situation John assumed his position in the fifth. There wasn't much to do but throw them over and after three batters had been retired it was seen that only two scores had been showed over. This record looked pretty good and Seizors went back in the sixth. After one run had been made Heinz was sent in, all the other pitchers being on a fishing expedition. He was all right during that round but took a chill while three of the Osborns were getting their healthy swings at the horsehide, and when he started in the seventh it was worse than a visit to a Chicago packing house.

After he had gotten all he cared for, Urban, who used to pitch quito in the Lamp Light League, went in. The hammering he got was worse than administered to Jimmy Britt by Baiting Nelson. Score:

John Donley, of Charleroi while walking along the tracks near the Sunnyside mines, across the river from Donora, yesterday afternoon was struck and killed by a local shifter, which was putting in some material for the coal company. A companion with Donley saw the approaching train in time to escape being hit. He screamed to his friend, but Donley did not hear or thought the other was playing a joke and did not move in time to prevent being struck.

The two men worked in the Sunnyside mine, and a little after four o'clock yesterday afternoon left to return to their homes. They were walking along the tracks toward the ferry and did not take any notice of the shifter. Donley was struck and thrown a good distance. Death was not instantaneous, and the injured man was picked up and placed on the 4:30 train to be taken to the McKeesport Hospital but on the way there died.

When the tragedy was learned by Donley's mother, Mrs. Mary Donley, of Crest avenue, Charleroi, she was prostrated. She tried to have the whereabouts of her son's body discovered but utterly failed. Donley was forty-two years of age, and unmarried, living with his mother.

because some do not agree with her.
intelligent person will deny that the
rulers, and even in our day China
press. The idea that a well-educated,
of great business establishments are di-
financiers of Wall Street have not out-
the procession.

deplorable. Any clergyman will tell
in the affairs of the public is a relic of the days of the harem and has neither position nor support in this country.
The people of Tioga county would gibe
with Miss Lewis.

The Fool Killer Needed.

was loaded, and the practical joker,
war, pestilence and famine.

in a mental charge all happening within a month in our neighboring
idiocy are always "prostrated" or
"frantic with grief," or have to be
after the victim of their homicidal

"humor" is dead or maimed for life.

The cavities which, in normal people,
humorous cases. At the first symptom
of an outbreak on the part of these
geance inflicted upon the "humorist."
people for so doing. On the contrary, they would receive the hearty thanks of all for ridding the world of an unmitigated menace to life and limb.

Henry Clay once remarked that he

fortune to be both right and President.
It is doubtful if any man in the history
of our country, not excepting Lincoln,
was as viciously and bitterly abused
ascribed him for political reasons; the
him for personal reasons and the Democrats repudiated him as a traitor who had
were unanimous in declaring Grover Cleveland to be the "sum of all villanies." Yet Cleveland was eternally right.

scruple to rebuke the most indecent gossip about him. He was held up to
science. To him more than other man
is the credit due for our financial sal-
beset mortal man.

periods of public life and he will be numbered among the Captains Coun-cels in the Nation's annals.

Learns to Obey.

Learns to obey! By obedience I do
have great difficulty in learning it in
facilitates between outward submission and uproarious rebellion. No greater
the child, in gratifying all its wishes,
ural or a social one.—Professor F.
Paulson, University of Berlin, in Educational Review.

the smallness of his writing sent the
grain of wheat on which he had writ-
all of Homer's "Illiad" on a piece of paper which could be rolled up small
enough to go into a nutshell.

prove its lightness Mark tied it to a fly,
curious fact in this matter, which re-
that Mark was a blacksmith, accus-
day long.

carriage as large as a grain of wheat.
perfection.

Sure of Water.

down. Where was water to be found?

So confident was Prestwich in re-
well 168 feet deep. The boring pro-
was reached the two workmen went to
his desk. They explained that there
greater depth. "Oh, no," was the only
Prestwich had foretold, and ever after, among many of the denizens of the valley, he had the reputation, much to his amusement, of not being quite
"canny."—"Life and Letters of Sir Joseph Prestwich."

Put Out of Commission.

Alberthy was supposed to influence
absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very volatile lady took her complaint to him.

"Which of you two wants to consult me?" said Alberthy.

man.

Alberthy then put a question to the
second time he told her to be quiet. Then she interrupted him a third time.

mother.

me," she exclaimed.

he commanded.

obeyed.

"Now, keep it out," said Alberthy,
Grand Magazine.

A Queer Complication.

In Sydney, a town of 500,000 inhabitants, one can get nothing to eat on a Sunday. Certain restaurants supply
be standing in negligence. Even this room the police invaded, but the waitress saved the situation by declaring
frying pan into the fire. One fine day
promise. The Italian had to pay. And
married another man.

Tackles This One.

The following paragraph of a hundred words is an excellent test in pronunciation. Try it first, and then repeat it again, word by word, in connection with a good dictionary:

"The world is full of trouble, and the more we become acquainted with it, the more we begin to contemplate all the economic details of her inextricable web.
The world resisted the allopathic misogynist, who gave a courteous diagnosis and loudly craved precedence for a tiny idyl in the form of a vase with an aesthetic decorating apparatus. This
have been a thing in a squall from the look she manifested at him when he wrote down his address. She ate her

The Gun Barrels Grow.

In the early days in the northwest,
and the gun held upright, it was alleged that the barrel of the weapon grew
until the Indian, after he had bought
and cut off a foot of useless metal.

Domestic Bliss.

Wife—I have about made up my mind, John, that when I married you
ber that you said it would be hard to find two people more alike than you
and I.

fected. Patient—Excuse me, doctor,
Magazine.

Simple.

act you see, the story goes like this—

case of this kind."—Exchange.

offers a remedy for it.

"Loosen up!" In these two words,
cial problem that has been confronting the business men of this county for the past six months. There is no good reason for present conditions,
yielded up her treasures more bountifully than during the past year, so
blame? You and I, my friends—nobody else, and conditions won't change
conditions will disappear.

losing in his proportion. Why? Simply this—you and I were frightened at a school that rose over Man-
now entirely disappeared.

overgrown lobsers that we are—kick-
a reason for it, and I for one, am
my case of neuritis, then I'm going
first man that talks hard times to me.

The advice is not half bad and it will cost nothing to give it a trial.

tion. The meeting should be attended by all citizens who care for Connellsville is behind the times in this respect. Pittsburg's playground organizations have asked the authorities
furtherance of their work, and the Pittsburg Dispatch endorses the application in the following language:

for various public improvements, some of them naturally incident to the
passage across the Allegheny river has been pledged. These objects should be secured at as small an ex-
other projects the playgrounds extension appears to be one of the most deserving. It is an ultimate economy
and benefit to the whole community,
at the expense of the coming generation, which is to profit largely from the foundation. Some of the other
judgment and the accumulation of necessity. Playgrounds are entitled to earnest consideration.

to Connellsville in proportion to its population as they are to Pittsburg.
It is not proposed here to ask for any
contribution.

ginning of bigger and better things.
—Connellsville Courier.

stay.—Altoona Tribune.

brought in touch with them, the Franklin Repository of Chambers-
large a personal reward as possible.
A community like Fulton county,

of money distributed by means of a community is enormous. Had it not been for the construction of the
the Cumber and Valley railroad that
forced to give up other positions,
would have been without employment
during the entire spring. Railroads are of infinite benefit to any community and are entitled to more recognition than they generally receive."

at 500. He worked too hard.

Clarksburg might have loaned us a run, just for a day or two.

Talk about your sensations.
Drum scored twice in one inning.
We were shoved to the bottom of
one.

It wasn't the landng in third place that hurt but it was the way they
shoved us.

the national game.

some good players.

E. Z. Belle Vernon. Your ques-
clared that he can't deliver the goods." Answer: It depends entirely on how much of a put out he gets with the fans.

Sure to Lose the Race.

three mile match race at the New
used to attach to it.

crack of the pistol they were running
almost stride for stride with the low,
distance runner.

lap. Then one of them slightly turned
was.

the dash for the finish began he allowed his head to get a lead of five yards before going after him in earnest pursuit.

Steps are being taken in Mahanoy City to restrict the explosive features usually connected with the celebration of Independence Day. The Mahanoy City Daily Record, referring in a commendatory manner to this movement, says: "The Retail Merchant's Protective association, of Mt. Carmel, has resolved that a committee of three be appointed to see the chief business in regard to enforcing the law now in existence prohibiting the firing of fireworks in the borough at any other time except from 6 on the evening of July 3, until July 4 at midnight. This was a step in the right direction, as hosts of uricins are in the habit of exploding fireworks on the principal thoroughfares, regardless of the accidents that may occur through frightening horses, conflagrations, etc."

Persistence in undertaking is a laudable virtue, but it can be a bit overdone sometimes, as in a case described by X. L. Mulloy in "Our Autumn Holiday on French Rivers." Mr. Molloy and his friends, longing for a good dive, went to a swimming school on an island in the Seine. They donned their rented costumes and were preparing for the plunge when a man with ropes came along and insisted on trying them about their waists. It was according to police regulations, and although they made an indignant protest, they were obliged to submit.

While we were dressing, says Mr. Molloy, we asked the two swimming masters for an extra towel.

Then we saw that there had come upon the platform a short and absurdly fat man dressed in bathing costume, swimming sandals and oil cap.

The swimming masters received the new arrival at the middle of the platform. There he balanced himself on his stomach on a wooden stump two feet high. The masters seized him by his hands and feet and with slow and deliberate movements made him strike out with the action of swimming. They kept this up for a quarter of an hour, and the perspiration rolled off him in great drops.

The fat man beamed with complacency and went in to dress.

I called the swimming masters aside. "Does 'our moustache' practice often like that? He must have great perseverance."

Not What He Meant.

Physician—Have you any aches or pains this morning? Patient—Yes, doctor; it hurts me to breathe—in fact, the only trouble now seems to be with my breath. Physician—All right, I'll give you something that will soon stop that!

Perseverance.

I never listen to optimism, because if they are untrue I run the risk of being deceived, and if they are true of having people not worth listening to.—Montgomery.
